Daniel Copes

We, the Class of 2007 would like to extend our thanks and dedicate this year's Herald to friend and teacher, Daniel Copes, for his guidance and support during our time at Windsor Locks High School.

Dan Copes has not only been a great teacher and coach, but a great friend to our class as well. For three years, Mr. Copes' youthful personality along with his charm and wit has made a positive impact on our school. He's always smiling and entertaining while teaching us about history and life. Not only does

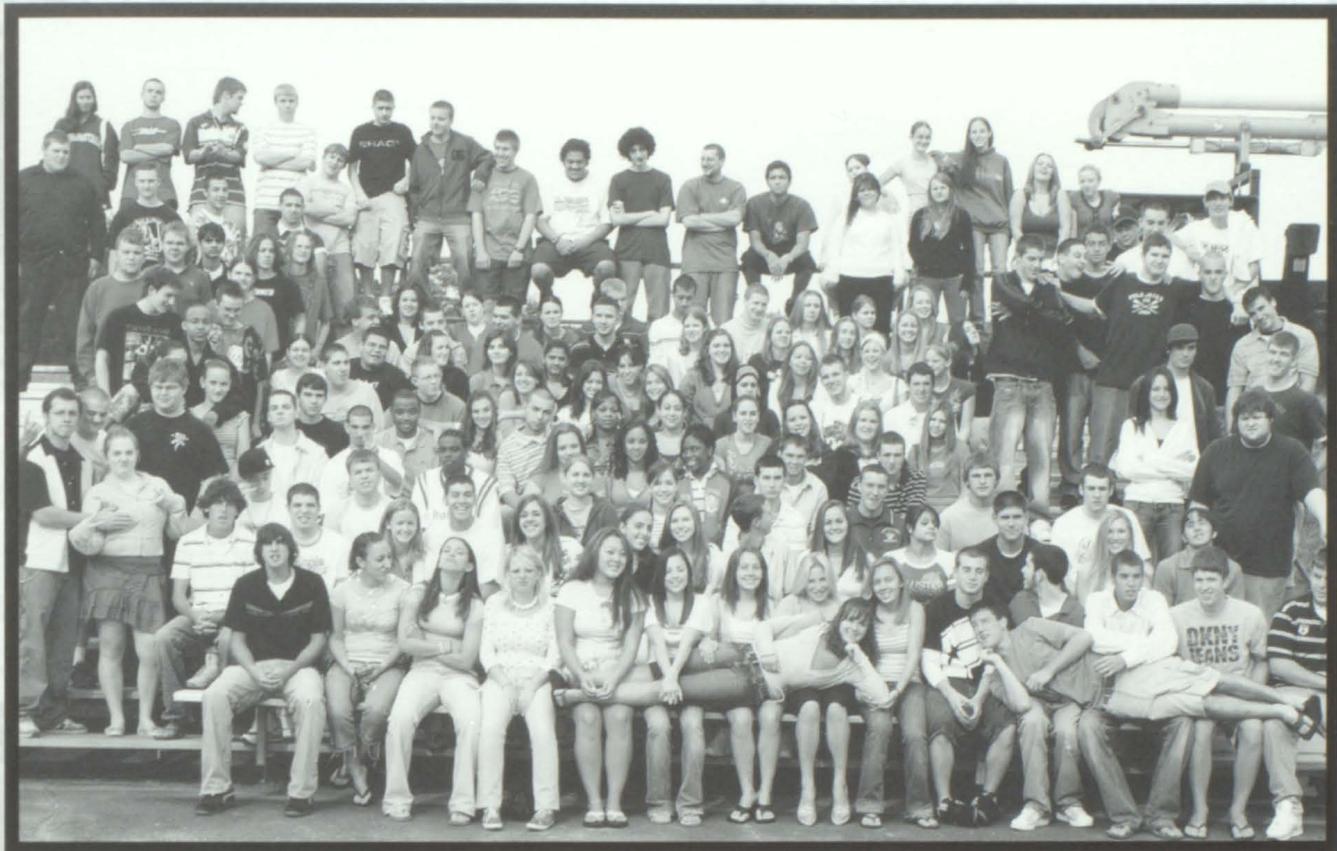

Mr. Copes teach us, but he also coaches the soccer, basketball and baseball teams; sports he excelled at as a student here at Windsor Locks High. But no matter where he is - on the field, in study hall, in or out of school - Mr. Copes is always there to lend a helping hand, proving to be someone we can all admire.

Words to the Class of 2007 from Mr. Copes-

"It has been a pleasure watching you grow as students and young men and women over the last three years. Thank you for challenging me and helping me grow as a teacher! Best of Luck to the Class of 2007 in all your future endeavors."

You, Me, We, Us...

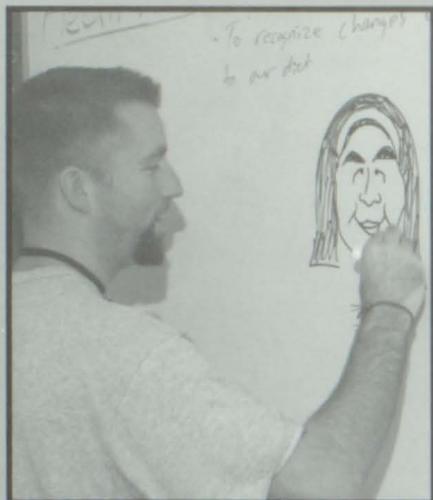

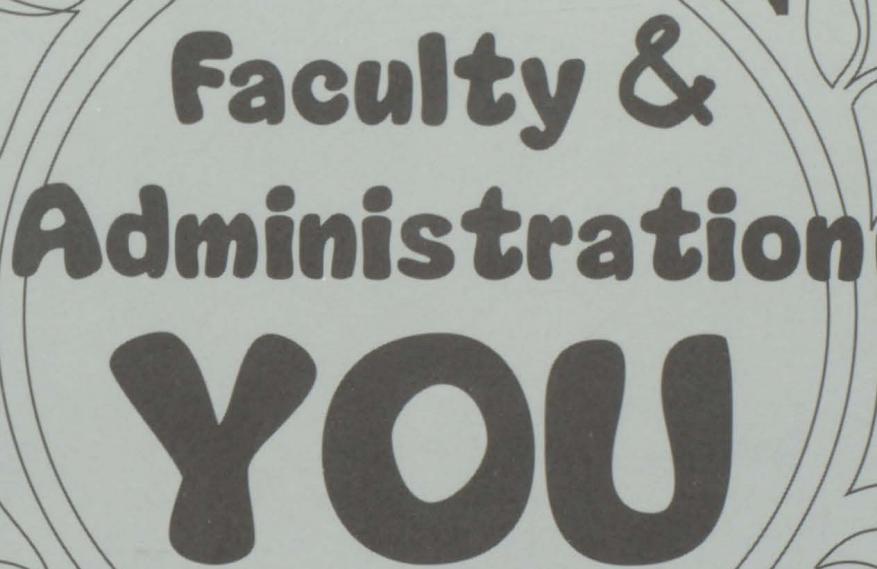

It's hard to believe that the year we have all been working towards is finally here. Our high school years are coming to an end and graduation is just around the corner. This is the year to remember. Make everyday count and make the best out of everything. Cherish the friendships you've made and kept throughout the years. Capture these precious moments, follow your dreams and give it all you've got.

Most of us have been together from the beginning - through the laughs, the tears, the good times and the not so good times. But because we are so close, we were able to push through and continue to amaze everyone. We truly are anything but ordinary.

Now is our time to shine and we have what it takes to be the best. It's no surprise that wherever our futures may take us , we will always strive for success. Watch out world because here we come!

So what happens now? Our journey is not yet over, it has only just begun. Some of us will head off to college while others will enter the workfield or the military, but at least we can say we made it to where we are now together. We're a team: you, me , us,

My experiences in school, work, and life came with difficulty, struggle, tenacity, and a little stubbornness. There's been great times and some hard times when I just wanted to give up. Though I learned that if you really want something you lost, or never had, you will work hard and give everything to get it. I am thankful for my family and my girlfriend Michelle, for being supportive and sticking by me through the hard times and the times of triumph. Thanks to Lefebvre and Sigall for giving me enough credit to graduate. Thanks Michelle for loving me so much and helping me get through...comming S.9 Diesel

In Memory of Sonja Burgos

1989 - 2004

You can shed tears that she is gone,
or you can smile because she has lived.

You can close your eyes and pray that she'll come back,
or you can open your eyes and see all she's left.

Your heart can be empty because you can't see her,
or you can be full of the love you shared.

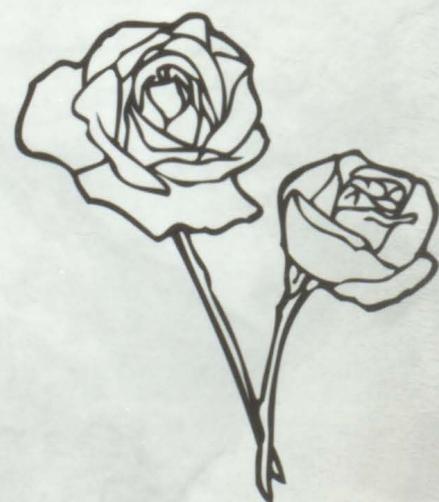

You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday,
or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember her only that she is gone,
or you can cherish her memory and let it live on.

You can cry and close your mind,
be empty and turn your back.

Or you can do what she'd want:
smile, open your eyes, love, and go on.

Our Younger Years

There are no seven wonders of the world in the eyes of a child. There are seven million.

-Walt Streightiff

It feels like only yesterday when we were learning our ABC's, fingerpainting, playing in the sandbox or on the playground, counting the days until Santa came, and pretending to be anything you wanted to be when you were all grown up. Take a look back to when we were just kids. Funny, huh? When we look at the past, we remember the fun times we had as little kids. When you look at us now, it's hard to believe that we are almost all grown up!

The brave souls of WLHS dove belly first into the pool to try and impress the judges with their stomach redness, horizontality, and water displacement.

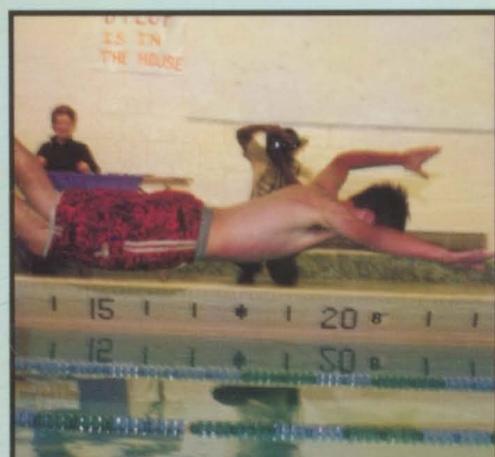

Desiree Gregoire soars like Superman into the water.

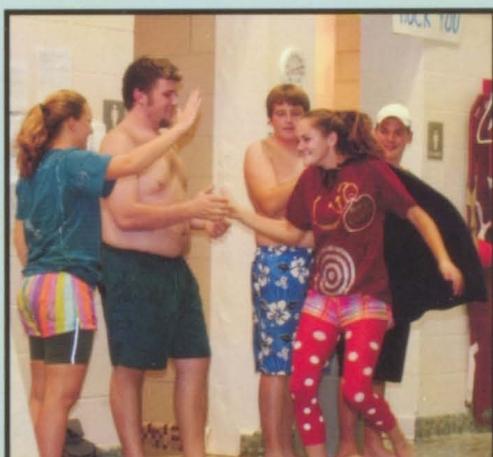

Judges, Mr. Edgar, Nicole Eastman, and Mrs. Bell are impressed.

How did that one feel, Nick Pacino?

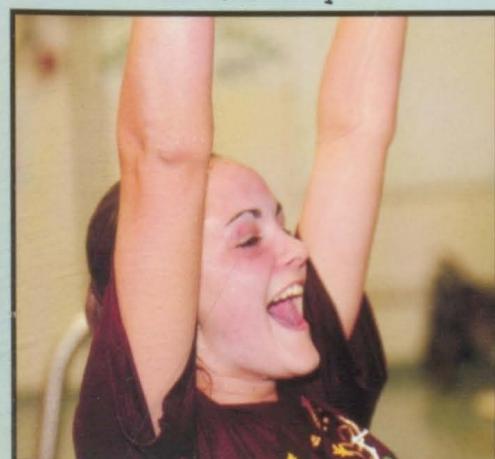

Charlie Simmons gets a 10 for horizontality!

High fives to all of the contestants who were brave enough to enter the contest!

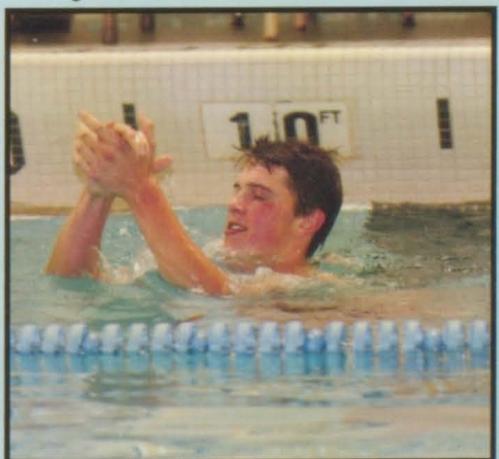

Desiree Gregoire has a sweet ankle grab as she hit the surface.

Brittany Whiteley sure knows how to get the crowd going!

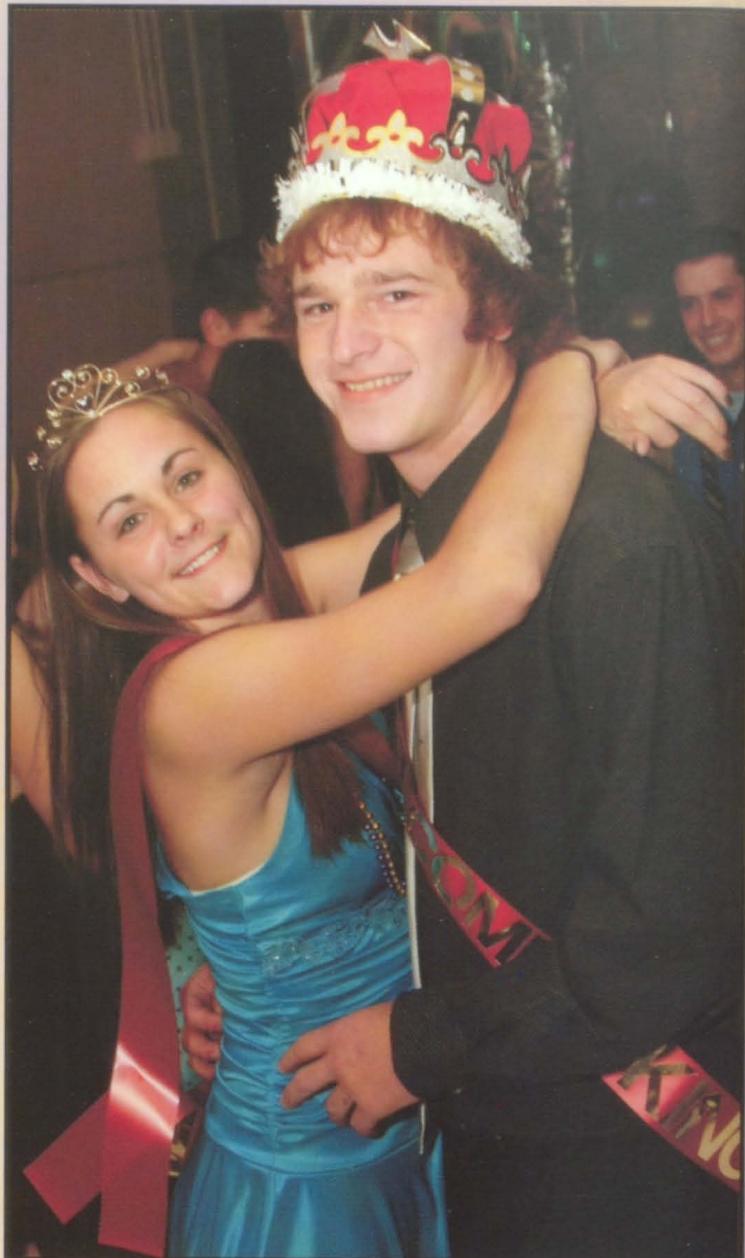

Overall, the Belly Flop Contest was a crowd pleaser, and a great addition to our Homecoming Week. Everyone had a splash!

I am so proud of the beautiful young lady you have become. You were my precious little porcelain baby doll. You have grown into such a beautiful person inside and out. You are wise beyond your years; always making such good decisions. I want you to know that the best is yet to come. Follow your dreams—follow your heart! It will always take you where you need to go. I am so excited for your future! I love you dearly, my little Maggie Sue. You just cannot imagine how incredibly proud I am of you. Love you. Love you. Love you.

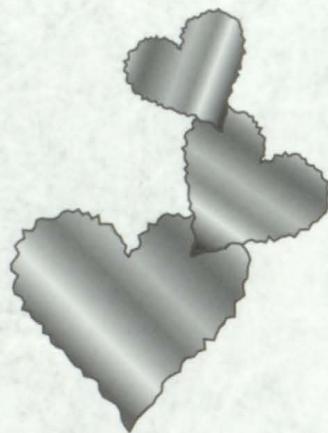

-Mom

Megan,

You are my blonde-haired, blue-eyed princess. Of three beautiful flowers, you were the most fragile. So quiet and sensitive. It has been such a pleasure to watch you bloom into the strong, intelligent, young lady you are today. Your honesty and empathy for others is admirable. Your sense of humor is refreshing. I could not be any prouder of you. Good luck in college. I know that you will succeed! Love You.

-Dad

Hi Megan,
We are so proud you have reached this point in your life. You are a beautiful young lady. Our prayer for you is that you will be happy and be the best at whatever you choose to do in life. May God bless and keep you.

Maggie Sue,

You're not only my sister, you're my best friend. We share a special bond that I have with no one else. We've been through everything together. I don't know what I'm going to do when you leave for college. I'll miss our morning dances and just having someone to be weird with. Good luck with everything!

Love you,

-Alexis

Megan,

It's been an amazing experience to watch you grow into a beautiful, confident, and talented young woman. But it's been even more amazing to have you grow up from my kid sister to my best friend. I wish you luck and good fortune in everything you do! Love You Always.

I'm proud of you!

Love, Nick

Our Kimmy,

Where has the time gone? It seems like yesterday that Nick and Brandon came to the hospital for the first time to see their new little sister. Boy was it amazing to hold our "little girl." It didn't take you very long to let everyone know that you were much, much more than that. Your independence and strong will showed through at a very early age.

You have used that to your advantage and have grown into a loving, caring, and successful young lady that we are proud of. Over the years, you have watched your brothers graduate and go off to college. We cannot believe that it is your turn to show the world what you've got! Set your sights high and achieve the goals you set for yourself. But never forget your friends and the memories you have made. "We wish we could take the credit for how smart and strong and beautiful you are. But you are your own kind of wonderful. And that is an amazing thing."

We Love You...Mom & Dad

Go out there and make your mark on the world. Always remember that one person really can make a difference. A smile can brighten the darkest day; a kind word can warm the coldest heart. Believe that you have the power to succeed. Mistakes are inevitable, but the lessons you will and have learned from them are worth the pain. Trust that when the time comes, you will make the right decisions. You are all stronger and wiser than you think. Don't be scared of the unknown, embrace it. The best times of your lives are yet to come.

Good luck to all of you. You will be missed.
Love, Miss Vocasek

Follow your dreams

"For a long time it seemed to me that life was about to begin - real life. But there was always some obstacle in the way, something to be gotten through first, some unfinished business, time still to be served, a debt to be paid. At last it dawned on me that these obstacles were my life. This perspective has helped me to see there is no way to happiness. Happiness is the way. So treasure every moment you have and remember that time waits for no one."

Happiness is a journey, not a destination..."

BEST OF LUCK!!!

Dear Miss Vocasek,

I just wanted to say thank you for everything you have done for me this past year. You have become more than a just teacher to me. You are a mentor and a friend. You are always there when I need to talk and I can come to you for anything. As far as yearbook goes, without you and help from Mr. Sigall, this yearbook would not have even been possible. Thank you for everything you have done! I'm going to miss you next year!

Love always,

Niki Eastman

Do not let the past dictate who you are,

but let it be a part of who you will become.

So the time has come for you, me, us...

Now that our high school years have come to an end, it is time for us to face reality. After four years of determination and hard work, we are finally ready to graduate and venture off into the next chapter of our lives. It's time for us to create our own lives, express our personalities, and really make something of ourselves.

Years from now, when we look back on our senior year, we will remember the good times we've shared: events like our Senior BBQ, the Halloween Breakfast, Homecoming, our Senior Ball and our Outing. These memories and experiences are things we will remember for the rest of our lives. Think for a moment about all that we've accomplished together-surviving our senior year, being able to walk across that stage and receive our diplomas. Can you believe that the moment we've all been working so hard for has finally come?

This may be the last time we're all here together, but our paths in life will cross again. The people in this school will continue to affect you in some way or another. The person sitting next to you could be your doctor one day, or even your coworker. There's no way of telling what's going to happen in our futures, but we should embrace whatever comes our way.

As we hug each other goodbye and leave the place we have called home for the last four years, remember what this final year has been about. It has been about making and keeping friends, succeeding when we thought we couldn't, and most importantly, preparing ourselves for life after high school. We've been preparing for this day for a long time and we are ready for anything!

Congratulations Class of 2007!
